Abby Storey is holding an exhibition of photographs from her Touchstones series at Platform Gallery from the 9th to the 31st of July 2010.

Touchstones reflects on humanity through images of the things that we value; objects of some form of reverence, altered through the often inelegant necessities of everyday life, the intervention of nature or the human hand.

The pictured circumstances question traditional associations, some lightheartedly, others less so.

Touchstones is an ongoing collection of photographs. An exhibition featuring an initial four images was held in 2007, this second exhibition features 14 new works and shows the developing complexity of the work.

This exhibition comes directly from New Zealand where it will have been exhibited at Satellite Gallery as part of the 2010 Auckland Festival of Photography.

Abby Storey is a contemporary photographic artist based in Melbourne.

Storey's photography examines social and cultural activity; older series' and further information can be found on her website: www.abbystorey.co.nz
